Governor Brown Lifts Drought Emergency, Retains Prohibition on Wasteful Practices, Executive Order B-40-17

Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr. today ended the drought state of emergency in most of California, while maintaining water reporting requirements and prohibitions on wasteful practices, such as watering during or right after rainfall.

- Executive Order B-40-17 lifts the drought emergency in all California counties except Fresno, Kings, Tulare and Tuolumne, where emergency drinking water projects will continue to help address diminished groundwater supplies. Today's order also rescinds two emergency proclamations from January and April 2014 and four drought-related executive orders issued in 2014 and 2015.
- Executive Order B-40-17 builds on actions taken in Executive Order B-37-16, which remains in effect, to continue making water conservation a way of life in California.

Oroville Dam Auxiliary Spillway Incident

- Flow from the flood control spillway will be reduced from 40,000 cubic feet per second to zero.
- As flows are reduced, DWR will monitor the status of the dam, spillways, and related structures to ensure their continued safety and stability.
- Flow to the Feather River will be reduced gradually to minimize risk to downstream levees per the Army Corps of Engineers operational requirements.
- This flow reduction in the river will be buffered by the Hyatt Powerplant, Diversion Pool, Thermalito Forebay, and the Thermalito Afterbay to a final flow of 13,000 cubic feet per second.

On 04/07/17 at 1640 hours, the California State Warning Center (CSWC) received notification from DWR advising they will be increasing flow to the Feather River at 1900 hours. Flow in the Feather River low flow channel through Oroville will increase. Thermalito Power Plant will also increase from 9,000 cfs to 13,000 cfs. The Oroville Dam spillway remains at 0 cfs.

Per the DWR Flood Operations Center and California Data Exchange Center (CDEC) as of 04/08/17 at 0600 hours:

- Inflow: 40,493 cfs.
- Outflow: 12,963 cfs.
- The current lake elevation is 850.96 feet.

Cal OES COASTAL REGION

Overturned Fuel Barge, San Francisco Bay, San Francisco County, Spill 17-2651

On 04/07/17 at 0048 hours, the California State Warning Center (CSWC) received notification via a National Response Center Report (United States Coast Guard – USCG) that a Fuel Barge capsized due to rough weather and is now partially submerged in the San Francisco Bay 1/2 mile off Yerba Buena Island.

At 1506 hours on 04/08/17, the California Department of Fish and Wildlife, Office of Spill Prevention and Response (OSPR), provided an update.

- OSPR crews remain on-scene and continue to monitor the situation.
- It is unknown at this time what amount of fluids released into the San Francisco Bay, but a light sheen has been observed.
- 3,000 feet of containment boom was deployed around the site and salvage operations are ongoing.
- No visible evidence of affected wildlife has been observed or reported.

Per the Coastal Duty Officer (CDO), who reached out to BART, multiple inspections of the BART Transbay Tubes have been conducted.

- A dive team was sent at 1600 hours to determine the exact location of the barge and to decide whether mitigation efforts are needed.
- There were no delays as a result of the barge incident.

Cal OES Ports and Harbors will continue to monitor and update information received from the USCG.

Wind Event, Del Norte County

On 04/07/17 at 0834 hours, the Cal OES Coastal Duty Officer (CDO) reported that Del Norte County experienced wind gusts of approximately 70-80 MPH overnight. Del Norte County OES opened their EOC at a Level 1 to monitor events and coordinate response activities.

- The county used their telephone emergency notification system to warn residents to remain indoors, shelter in place.
- CUEA reported per PG&E, 4,400 customers have been affected. Power should be restored by the end of the day, 04/07/17.
- There were multiple road closures due to downed power lines and fallen trees. There was one structure fire caused by a burning tree fallen across the roadway into a house.
- Large portions of the county experienced power outages. There were some sporadic 9-1-1 outages, but is currently operating.
- A CDCR crew out of Alder Camp at Pelican Bay assisted with clearing the roadways of trees.
- All schools and government (city and county) offices were closed.
- The county has not requested assistance at this time.
- Del Norte County OES continues to monitor the situation and will provide periodic updates.

WEATHER OF CONCERN

Weather of Concern

- Snow is expected for portions of Northwest California through this morning with total snowfall accumulations ranging from 1 to 7 inches above 2000 to 2500 feet.
- Light rain will linger across portions of Southern California but will end late today.
- Active Weather Warnings, Watches and Advisories by County:
- http://www.wrh.noaa.gov/sto/brief/www_bc_cal.php - Temporarily unavailable.
- <https://alerts-v2.weather.gov/counties/CA>

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

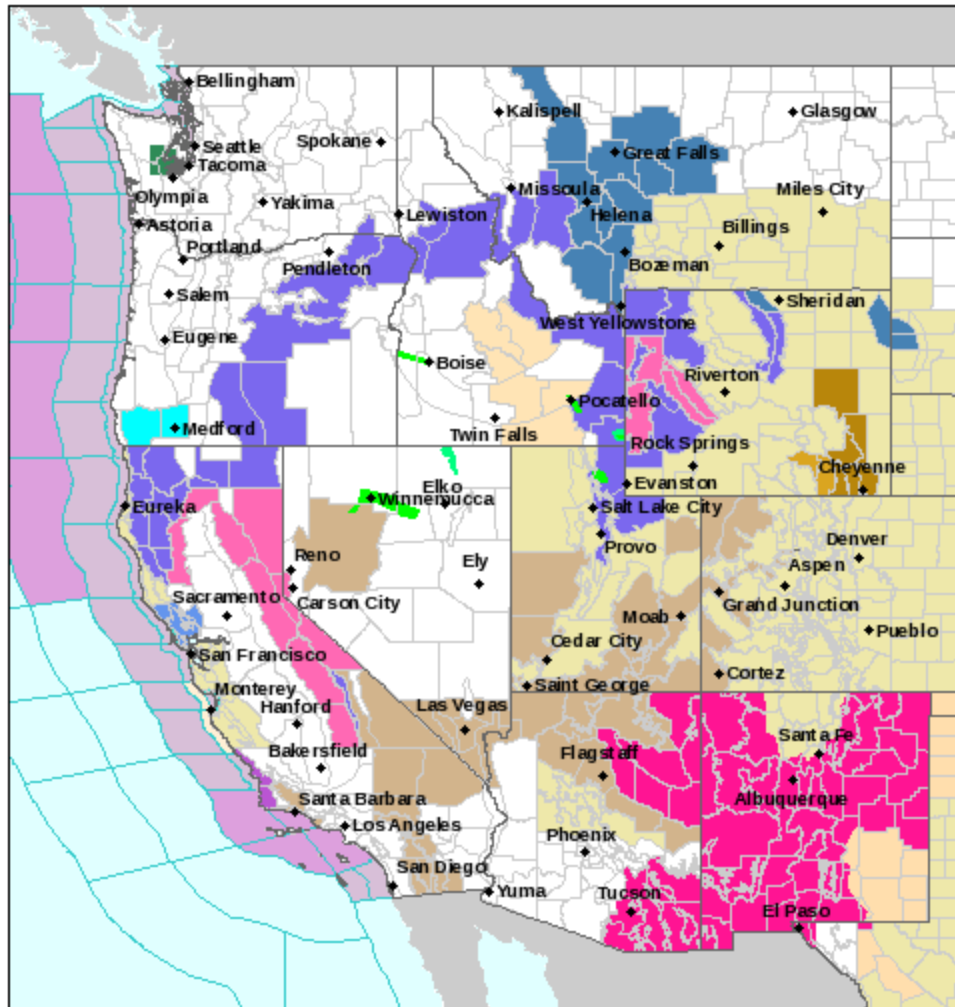

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Showers and higher elevation snow showers will persist through the morning, with precipitation on a gradual downward trend as we head through the day. Partial clearing tonight may allow temperatures to drop sufficiently enough for patchy frost to develop across portions of the interior. More wet weather is in the forecast for next week.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

A few lingering showers are expected this morning as a front moves through the region. Gusty northerly winds will develop behind the exiting front affecting some areas through Sunday morning. A cooling trend will occur into this weekend. Some warming is expected the first half of the week before another area of low pressure brings cooler conditions and another chance of rain to the region late next week.
